R RAMANA

ABOUT ME

I am passionate about the technology field, specifically, the green-tech scene. I am self-taught in the programming language of Python, and am striving to learn Java on my own. I also aspire to venture out to develop my own start-up one day and hence I feel it is vital to get prior experience in the tech industry. I have learnt of the tremendous success of pslove and am impressed with the concept of pslove and its mobile application. I feel it is where I will gather the best experience.
